

RACE, RACISM AND RESISTANCE in LATIN AMERICA

lecture series

RESILIENCE AND HOPE IN COLOMBIA

This lecture will explore the roots of colonial racism in Colombia, and trace the history of black struggles for liberation through local practices of resistance in San Basilio de Palenque and other Afro-descendent communities throughout the country.

The speakers will also share contemporary experiences of Afro-colombian resistance in the midst of Colombia's armed conflict, and the militarization of black bodies as targets and weapons in the war.

OSCAR QUINTERO

researches issues of inequality, racism, and sexism from a comparative and intersectional perspective. Oscar is a sociologist at the Universidad Nacional de Colombia. He has an MA in Social Geography and a Ph.D. in Sociology from the University Haute Bretagne in Rennes, France.

DANNY MARÍA RAMÍREZ TORRES

is a Black woman, feminist and professional with forthright commitments to demands for women's rights, with an intersectional vision of the social and structural vulnerabilities that affect us.

Danny María is a sociologist with an MA in Gender Studies from the Universidad Nacional de Colombia.

OCTOBER 21, 2020

4:30 PM PST

ZOOM ID: 951 2743 8729

