LATAM 111: ELEMENTARY MIXTEC II

Mixtec is an indigenous language of Mexico spoken by people living in the states of Oaxaca, Guerrero, and Puebla, many of whom have migrated and established communities throughout northern Mexico and the United States.

In the Spring of 2019, the Center for LAS will offer four units in Elementary Mixtec II as LATAM 111 on M & W between 12:00-1:50PM. The Mixtec Language and Culture Course is taught by Professor Angelina Trujillo who is originally from Ixpantepec Nieves, Oaxaca. Course material will include pronunciation, oral practice, listening comprehension, reading and writing, and grammar in a communicative context and through task-based activities.

LATAM 296: ELEMENTARY NAHUATL II

Nahuatl is a major indigenous language spoken in Mexico today by more than a million people, the language spoken by the Aztecs and other Nahuatlaca of Mesoamerica.

In the Spring of 2019, the Center for LAS will offer four units in Modern Huastecan Nahuatl as LATAM 296 on T & TH between 9:00-10:50AM. The Nahuatl Language Course is taught live by a native-speaking instructor in Modern Huastecan Nahuatl. Course material will include linguistic and cultural content related to Nahua daily life.

Upon completion of the one-year beginning course, students will be able to advance to the intermediate level course provided during the school year or may enroll in a 6-week summer immersion program through the University of Zacatecas.

Spanish requirement for Nahuatl

Indigenous languages are great options for Spanish speakers or other bilingual speakers. These courses provide unique & marketable skills for public health, social services, law, legal services, among other areas.

For more information, contact Lia Wesson at lwesson@sdsu.edu